Voices of the Earth: People Helping People

Spring 2018
Concert & Poetry Series

On April 8, 2018 Notable Works will be honoring the Nature Conservancy of Rhode Island. The State Ballet of Rhode Island, AAA Northeast and Kathy Gormley of Cranston will sponsor this event. We hope you will join us in experiencing Preserve and Short Bird Manager Jeanne Cooper’s poignant slides of the land and endangered species of Rhode Island, which the Nature Conservancy is protecting, and listening to Noreen Inglesi’s musical and poetic tribute to the Conservancy’s very vital work. Also, we are looking forward once again to Beatrice Lazarus and the Poetry Loft’s insightful poetry. Then, on May 6, 2018, Mary Zema Music and Turf Works of Warwick will be sponsoring the final event of our Notable Works’ 2018 Spring Series, which will feature Jan Luby and will honor the great work of McAuley House Ministries. Both events will begin at 1:00 pm and will take place at the Brooklyn Coffee and Tea House, 209 Douglas Ave., Providence, Rhode Island. There will be a 50/50 raffle and admission is $5.00 per person at the door. Please bring work gloves, recyclable trash bags, or binoculars for the Nature Conservancy of Rhode Island and hygiene items, baseball caps or pocket rain ponchos for McAuley House Ministries and receive a free gift.

Amos House
Carpentry & Maintenance Program

Jessica Salter of Amos House
Director of Development

Notable Works was proud to host the first event of our Spring 2018 Concert and Poetry Reading Series, “Voices of the Earth: People Helping People,” which honored Amos House of Providence, Rhode Island. We so much appreciated the informative and heart-warming address delivered so eloquently by Jessica Salter, Director of Development for Amos House. Our Artist in Residence, Noreen Inglesi, began the program and set the tone with her compelling poem “Voices of the Earth” which included the line “judge not those who’ve lost rudder, oar and sail...” And in response, Jessica explained how Amos House is committed to accepting individuals and families facing difficult situations beyond their control and to helping them “build and rebuild their lives.” Our featured performer, Joanne Lurgio, as well as Mary Zema and the poets from the Poetry Loft: Beatrice Lazarus, Kim Baker and Adele Bourne, also beautifully reinforced the theme of our event through their thought provoking and fitting repertoire. We are looking forward to the next two events which are part of the Notable Works’ “Voices of the Earth: People Helping People” Spring 2018 Concert and Poetry Series at the Brooklyn Coffee and Tea House in Providence, Rhode Island.
