

S P R I N G O F 2 0 1 9

Notable Notes

Notable Works Publication and Distribution Co., Inc.

“Voices of the Earth: The Future of Our Planet”

Irma Jenks helps fill “Love Warms The Homeless Heart” tote bags at the Cranston Senior Center with hygiene items donated by Notable Works along with scarfs, hats and dolls all hand-made by the Cranston Senior Community Volunteer Smile Doll Program, Ann Tanzi, coordinator.

Jessica Salter, Director of Development of Amos House, graciously accepted “Love Warms the Homeless Heart” tote bags to be distributed to local families “in crisis.”

Notable Works will celebrate, with an environmental concert and poetry reading, the release of our new book “Voices of the Earth: The Future of Our Planet.” This event will kick off the “Music For the Soul” Series at the First Baptist Church of Cross Mills (see flier on back). Noreen Inglesi, Notable Works’ Artist In Residence, will showcase her original music and poetry inspired by the dedicated work of such agencies as the Woonasquatucket River Watershed Council and the Nature Conservancy of Rhode Island. Her captivating melodies as well as descriptive and inspiring poetry will bring to life the beauty of such natural Rhode Island treasures as the Woonasquatucket River, Goosewing Beach in Little Compton, Block Island, and Matunuck Hills preserves. We hope that you will consider attending this event, which will benefit local charities and will go a long way in helping Notable Works with our current project, which addresses the issue of climate change while highlighting and supporting the efforts of Rhode Island environmental agencies. Please visit our website www.notableworks.org

First Baptist Church of Cross Mills

Welcomes

Notable Works

www.notableworks.org

To kick off

“Music for the Soul” Summer Series

The Future of Our Planet

Featuring:

The Notable Works’ Ensemble

Tina Bernard, Maria Bilyeu,

Dalita Getzoyan, Noreen Inglesi and Alison Shea

Performing original works by RI composer and poet, Noreen Inglesi

With special guests:

Nancy Carroll, David Dragone and Thomas Lane

Sunday, June 30, 2019 at 3PM

At

First Baptist Church of Cross Mills

4403 Old Post Rd., Charlestown, Rhode Island 02813 (next to the Cross Mills library)

Admission: $12.00 per person (children under 12 free)

Tickets available Tuesdays at the church or you may call Tina at (401) 788-7074 or Noreen at (401) 588-2964

A portion of the proceeds for this event will benefit local charities and will help Notable Works continue to address the issue of climate change.

Complimentary refreshments provided by Charlestown Famous Pizza and Texas Roadhouse of East Greenwich, Rhode Island